BUG

BY PULITZER PRIZE WINNER TRACY LETTS
DIRECTED BY MEGAN SANDBERG-ZAKIAN

A handsome drifter. A lonely waitress. A cheap motel. But what's that crawling across the bed? Reality slowly blurs and suspense turns to horror, as this darkly comic thriller explores the line between conspiracy theory and actual conspiracy. A tale of love, paranoia, and the grip of government, Bug will get under your skin.

This play contains some violence and brief nudity; recommended for mature audiences.

A TIME OF FIRE

BY CHARLES MULEKWA
A U.S. PREMIERE DIRECTED BY DONALD W. KING

An unnamed African country. A civil war. A student, a thief, and a soldier. Who would you trust with your life? This electrifying new play by Ugandan playwright Charles Mulekwa brings us the story of crisis in Africa – not with media or Hollywood gloss – but from an intimately personal point of view.

APRIL 9 - MAY 10, 2009

GEM OF THE OCEAN

BY PULITZER PRIZE WINNER AUGUST WILSON
DIRECTED BY DON MAYS

Guilt. Love. Heritage. World renowned playwright August Wilson commences his charting of black folks in America with this powerful, haunting tale of a spiritually tormented young man who pays a visit to the wise Aunt Ester on the eve of her 287th birthday. As the 20th century dawns and the legacy of slavery lingers, Wilson – and Aunt Ester – ask us “What use do we make of our freedom?”
